

Enex Gaming and Wagering Division Unearthed by the AGE

16 August 2010

Sydney: The Enex TestLab, one of the world's premier testing facilities, has wrapped up the Australasian Gaming Expo (AGE) by giving away thousands of dollars worth of products and services to celebrate the success of its Gaming and Wagering division.

As one of the most popular stands at the Sydney Exhibition Centre, the Enex TestLab Gaming and Wagering exhibit introduced delegates to its compliance, certification and security testing services – services that are a mandatory requirement for the industry.

Matt Tett, Director, Enex TestLab says, “We’re delighted with the response from the industry. Enex TestLab offers a really compelling return on investment (ROI). We deliver high value testing services at a low cost, providing our customers with probity and a clear competitive edge.”

“It’s a massively dynamic sector. Enex TestLab is one of the very few independent and reliable organisations that can deliver these kinds of services globally,” he says.

As part of its promotion at the event, Enex Testlab’s business card draw announced a first prize of $5000 worth of testing services was won by Michael Laybutt from AmTote Australasia. Second prize, a 40 inch LCD TV, was awarded to Allan Hudson from Kendall Services and Citizens Club.
